In this review, we'll cover what the VR Fitness Insider team thinks about the functionality of HeadON!: The Learning System HeadOn!: After having used HeadOn!: over a 6 week period, it is apparent to the VR Fitness Insider team that there are two components that matter to optimize the functionality of this system. The first of these is the software, and the second is the striker. We are going to cover the software first. The Software HeadOn!: The software is head tracking software, and is integrated into a VR game that you play. The HeadOn! software will hold the position of your head relative to the gravity in virtual reality space, so that you can generate a directional force vector to launch your golf ball. The software holds position relative to the gravity in your virtual environment and allows you to generate a directional force vector. These videos will outline how to use the software. The first video features the head tracking software used by the VR Fitness Insider team. In the video, we'll cover how to get set up for a game, how to install the HeadOn!: app, how to launch a ball, and how to tell if the HeadOn!: is tracking the game correctly. The second video shows a workout using the HeadOn! software. And here are two more workouts using the HeadOn! software. On a positive note, the HeadOn! app is free, easy to use, and allows you to game without making your fingers sweaty. The HeadOn!: Shooter The other important element is the striker. The striker is the "game" in this system, and can be changed to any game that you choose. Each striker is programmed with different variables to encourage you to exercise different muscles. The shooter is programmed to do work on the upper body, and uses HeadON! to do so. The price of the striker is very reasonable – $45. But if you play games more than a few times, you should invest in the pack for $69. The Cardio GameHeadOn!: The cardio game was designed to allow you to play non-

If you take a prime of form $4l+3$ and if takes the form 7 when reduced to 2-adic form, then z is a prime. My question is why is that if N is odd then 2 can not even divide N since $N = 2m + 1$ then from Fermat we know that $2^{(2m+1)/2} = 1$ so in that case we can divide by 2 and that implies that $7 \mid 2^{(2m+2)/2} \times 2^{(2m+1)/2}$ implying that 7 is divisible by 2, but why is this not a contradiction? I'm really confused, I would really appreciate your help. A: From Fermat's little theorem we know that $a^{(2m+1)/2}\equiv 1\pmod{2}$. So $2^{2m+1}\equiv 1\pmod{7}$. If $2^{(2m+2)/2}\equiv 1\pmod{7}$, then we know that $2^{2m+2}\equiv 1$
