* Perfect for remote PC help. The helpdesk can perform useful troubleshooting remotely. * Support for corporate environment. * Easily switch between various computers (Windows and Mac). * Windows and Mac GUI. * Supporter for various remote-control tools. * Show log of previous calls. * Support sticky notes and sharing files. * Quicker is fully compatible with Quicker Support app suite. Note: * This app is not a replacement for Microsoft Remote Assistance (R), TeamViewer VNC, and Citrix Receiver (AeroCast). It is a remote desktop, remote control and remote assistance tool. It works as a client or server. Ratings and Reviews A "must-have for any Windows-based computer support scenario" (MobiSystems - Android Apps on Google Play), Quicker Support allows an administrator or helper to control a remote computer from anywhere. The remote control panel's GUI is designed in such a way that even a Windows or Mac novice can use it with ease. Quicker Support can auto-detect the supported remote control tool and apply the user-defined custom settings to this tool's GUI. The user can start a remote session and do some specific action (e.g. suspend, hibernate, reboot, change the host IP address, and much more) while you simply wait for the results. Quicker Support has three modes of operation: * Remote session: an instant command window is opened on your client PC. * Remote control: a video stream is opened, showing your client's screen. * Remote assistance: the client PC starts a remote control session and the helpdesk acts as a helper. The app can be used as a remote control tool, remote assistance tool, or as a helpdesk server. The helpdesk server functionality makes sure your computers are always up and ready to help, and any machines in your network will be able to connect and control your users' PC. According to the developer, Quicker Support is capable of accessing a local client machine (using remote control protocol) and remote computers (using remote assistance protocol) with ease. Moreover, remote control and remote assistance protocols can be selected on a single app-by-app basis. You can also change the settings for network mappings on the fly. The GUI is fully customizable and you can highlight the necessary buttons and features. It can capture screenshots, add sticky notes, share files, and use the
