The year is 1984. Space has been colonised but it is not yet a world governed by man. There are no laws and therefore no order. Chaos rules. When the U.S.S. Ripley, an exploratory science vessel, is launched, two lieutenants, Dwight and Austin, are sent on a 22 day mission to find a safe location for the scientists and crew of her sister ship. However, the two lieutenants soon realise they have been chosen to fulfil a much larger mission. The mission of finding the survivors from the USS St. Louis, which was destroyed by the alien creature whose space ship was never found. The race is on to find the St. Louis before the aliens do. But there are other unknown parties in the neighbourhood who are eager to make use of the flying saucers. The two lieutenants are the only chance the scientists and crew of the St. Louis have of survival. You, as the two lieutenants, must navigate the vastness of space to find the St. Louis, alive or dead. What starts out as a simple rescue mission becomes a desperate race against time. Every decision you make will decide who lives and who dies. How far will you go to save the life of the one you love? Like It, Share It, Die For It! Last night I put up an add on craigslist that was for a robotic unicorn for sale. It's always a good night for me when I see three unicorns on the same day. :) Then today I got an e mail saying a guy had seen the ad last night, and he was willing to take the unicorn up for the asking price of $20, which was a good deal. He had been looking for a unicorn, but couldn't find one, and was just about to give up when this one showed up on craigslist. Sometimes I think we look for unicorns when we really should be looking for helpful, caring people. You got lucky. I saw that ad yesterday morning and thought it must be a scam. Then an hour later I saw a 'gorgeous three-horned unicorn' on the same day, posted for $20. Then after that, I was reading about another craigslist scam where they sell a baby elephant (no, really) for $400. The really fun part was that the seller had the word 'Cayman island' in the description. I never used to believe that stuff

A brief story of a young woman named Fidelia waking up in a strange house in the forest on Halloween eve with no memory of how she got there. As she takes time to get used to the new scenery, she becomes infatuated with the mysterious house and its inhabitants. Her exposure to and examination of the neighborhood leads her to wonder about the woman who left her there. Can she learn more about this person and the circumstances surrounding her disappearance? Are they somehow connected to the house she is now in? The Witch in the Forest is a slice-of-life visual novel that follows a young woman named Fidelia as she attempts to navigate her first day at a new school, along with having a few extra happenings in the town surrounding it. If you like human interaction stories, female protagonists, and Halloween, you're going to love this game! Witch in the Forest (WITF) is written from a feminist point of view and has multiple endings that are decided by the player's actions. This gives the player a chance to experience all sides of the story, learn more about the people they are interacting with, and experience a different type of story from what they are used to. Fidelia wakes up in the middle of the forest and can't remember why she is there. She is taken care of by some suspicious people and after some time being with them, she decides to find the women's home she was taken to. I would give any one out there reading this, a bookmark. It's short and cute. The plot is cute, has a few different but reasonable laughs and has a nice plot twist at the end. I like that it has so many different different choices. I know that is a bit of a dirty statement but I like that. And the aesthetics are just too cute. The forest looks really nice. It also has the main character lying down in the forest quite a bit. Overall, it was cute and I would recommend it to any one out there who has a passing interest in visual novels but not a lot of time. This was a cute game. The art and music are great. The story has a nice spooky atmosphere to it that I enjoyed. The characters are likable and the dialogue flowed pretty well. The game has good pacing which means that it only takes a few hours to finish. There are 12 different endings which is nice. One of the endings is based on your choices which c9d1549cdd

Push! Can I finish my coffee now? I remember that once in the past, I learned a lesson on the way. What's that now? Now I know, you're all there for me! Sorry, I have a good job with a senior manager... I'm a little disrespected, but I always try to be there for you guys in a natural way. I do a good job now. I come back to work late everyday, and when I see that you are back, I tell you that I have something to tell you. That I'm home now, not to worry and come over as soon as you can. And in the middle of the conversation, I speak of something to you. That are in order, I do a job, you do a job. It seems like we have nothing in common, but we do. I don't have to do much, as long as I do my job, you do your job, I go home, and you go home. But after you do your job, you come home. You follow me again... a little? Here...! You said you'd forget about that "honesty oath"! You're a liar! I said that once! But I lied! Humm..? So what? I know! It makes no sense! This is what you think you want to say! You're just like me! I really love you, I really like you, I really trust you! You like me?! That's impossible! How come? Because you know that I am a pervert. But I am not! We've been friends for over a year and I haven't been able to get close to you. Come on, I haven't done anything to you. I know... So... why don't you like me? Of course you don't like me. A guy likes a girl he likes, and I don't like you. But, I hope you can be the perfect wife to my mother. You can do anything, you are free, you can do anything! Nonsense! There's nothing I can do to her! I just hope you can do anything... You'll never understand, you don't see the kind of beauty I see in you. You are a beautiful girl! And that's what I want. I hate the fact that I can't get close to you, you're just like me... Tsss! I think you'll like this! I got it for you! I got it for you! You don't have to ], Lemma 3.1 and [KaraDedeler1989], Theorem 9); any other operator is similarly included in the following presentation.

[Lemma32.02] Let $f \in L^1(0, \infty)$ and assume that $f \in L^2(0, \infty)$. If $\{T_i\}_{i \in \mathbb{N}}$ is a sequence of bounded linear operators such that $\|T_i\| \leq 1$ and $T_i \rightarrow T$ for some bounded linear operator T , then T is a contraction and satisfies the kernel condition.

[Lemma32.03] Let $f \in L^2(0, \infty)$ be symmetric in $[0, \infty)$ and assume that $f \in L^1(0, \infty)$. Suppose that $\{T_i\}_{i \in \mathbb{N}}$ is a sequence of bounded linear operators such that $\|T_i\| \leq 1$ and $T_i \rightarrow T$ for some bounded linear operator T . Then $\int_0^\infty \left| \int_0^t f(\tau) d\tau \right|^2 dt \rightarrow 0$, where $F^{\{a\}}(0, t)$ is either $F(0, t)$ or $F_3(0, t)$.

[Lemma32.04] Let f be symmetric in $[0, \infty)$ and assume that $f \in L^1(0, \infty)$. Assume further that $F \in L^2(0, \infty)$ is symmetric in $[0, \infty)$ and is increasing on the positive real axis. Moreover, assume that $F_3 \in L^2(0, \infty)$ and is symmetric in $[0, \infty)$ is strictly increasing on the positive real
