A VR apocalypse that uniquely combines the appeal of a survival simulation with a narrative driven by player-driven choices. Buy this game with your Oculus Rift S and transport yourself to a world where you must survive on your own resources. Recycle everything, harvest food and raw materials, craft tools and weapons. Make fire, use it to create shelters and explore an uncharted land. Resources are finite and the only way to survive is by teamwork, teamwork is built by individual decisions and actions and those decisions can change the world around you. - Someone has to be in charge: you are the God of your own world and the only one that can save your people and yourself from the impending doom of the walking dead. - Could this be the last you ever see of your world?: the VR technology and the setup makes it possible to interact with all parts of the world using the controller without losing immersion. And the world is massive. You may decide your fate alone, or gather others who may not listen to you and just reach out for a hand. - Do you want to make an end?: can you cause a revolution? Can you topple the government by aligning your team with the right people and cause chaos in your world? - Will you bring your family home?: your survivors have been scattered throughout the world after a global pandemic, the zombies have already destroyed most cities. You must help them make their way to safety, teach your family how to survive in a new world and then take them home. - Will you fail? Will the apocalypse overwhelm you? Will you finally lose it all? What is a VR world? A VR world is a computer generated, virtual environment that can be accessed with a VR headset like the Oculus Rift or the Vive (or any other). Here you can interact with the virtual world in a completely new way. Reaching inside a VR world and touching and feeling objects gives an incredibly realistic experience of being there, of actually going into these things and interacting with them. For example, you can pick up a book in the air and read it, hold a gun, or throw it. You might start by building a shelter in which to live. Using this shelter you can craft a gun, use it against enemies, explore the world and harvest resources. Instead of having a real life with real-life limitations, as in real life, this world is your imagination and you are the God of your own
